The main character McGeever main article: Originally portrayed by Richard Dean Anderson mcgaiber, Lucas Till in the 2016 reboot McGeever is a problem solver [1] who prefers to resolve nonviolent conflicts as much as possible. He refuses to carry or use a gun due to a childhood accident. A revolver that caused the death of a friend. [2] McGeever is an outspoken advocate of gun control and advocates for environmental conservation, racial equality, and helping the poor. Even if his improvised device is used to attack hostile opponents, he always does so in self-defense and, if possible, disabled rather than conquering or killing. He often doubts the military attitude within the government. He sees his Phoenix Foundation employers as an alternative to traditional (violent) means of law enforcement. In the 2016 reboot, McGeever is a U.S. agent working for the Phoenix Foundation, a secret agency run by a think tank. Trained as an explosive combination technician in the Army, he prefers to use non-lethal means to stop his enemies. Mack spends most of the first and second seasons searching for his father James, who abandoned him as a child shortly after the loss of his mother. He eventually learns that James has been watching for his entire life in the Season 2 finale, and is now his boss codenamed 'Director'. Unable to work for those he doesn't believe, Angus quitphoenix and refuses to join again because he can't trust his father. Maddy convinces James to quit and Angus rejoins. Peter Thornton / Patricia Thornton Main Article: Peter Thornton (McGovern) Peter Thornton originally portrayed by Dana Elka; Patricia Thornton, played by Sandrine Holt in 2016, is McGeever's boss and best friend, Peter Thornton [3][4] (portrayed by Dana Elka). Pete is divorced from Connie Thornton (portrayed by Linda Dalo). [5] Pete is an agent in the External Services Department (DXS), who is impressed by Mac's originality while tracking down the international assassin Murdoc. [6] When Pete becomes an operations director at the Phoenix Foundation a few years later, mcgovern will join the program. In addition to sending Mace to various work on the foundation, Pete is forced to bail out McGovern several times from the problems he gets to. Pete had a son, Michael, who was always resentful of never being around as he grew up. In the sixth season, Totten begins to blind as a result of glaucoma. (Elka was diagnosed with glaucoma.) [7] [8] [9] Reboot in 2016, Patricia Thornton is a former field agent and operations director of the Outer Services and Phoenix Foundation. In the 12th episode, the screwdriver is identified as a mole working in an organization. Jack Dalton is repeatedly portrayed by Bruce McGhee as original, a 2016 reboot of the original series by George Eads, Jack is an aviator and mcgeever's longtime friend, and invariably gets both in trouble and weaknesses for a rich quick plan. He always wears a peak hat and cramps his left eye when lying down. Jack Dalton (played by former CSI star George) in the 2016 reboot. Mack's partner at the scene, a former Delta Force soldier and CIA agent. Jack's history with Mac dates back to his days in the Army, and unlike Mack, he is not afraid to use guns in the field. He also has a history with Riley, because he was once in a relationship with her mother and had an altercation with her abusive father. Jack is very easy and laid back, but he often asks for special forces training to help the team get out of the tight spot. Actor Bruce McGill guest on the rebooted series as Detective Greer in episode 2x11 Bullet + Pen. Wilt Bozer, portrayed as the main character of The Justin Hire in 2016, is starring in a handful of episodes, including The Serenity, Lost Madeus, Steele's Heart, and McGeever's Woman, which was rebooted by Robin Mosley as the main series. In the 2016 reboot, Wilt Borger is an ambitious filmmaker, prosthetic makeup artist, and McGeever's best friend and roommate. At first, he doesn't know about McEy's real job. Bowser later joined the Phoenix Foundation after discovering McGeever's secrets, using his talents to create vivid masks and face prosthetics. Riley Davis rebooted in 2016 as a major A-computer systems expert and experienced hacker hired by Christine Mays for the Phoenix Foundation. Matilda Webber is the new operations director of the Phoenix Foundation and jack's former boss of the CIA, as matilda Matty Webber, starring Meredith Eaton in 2016. She takes over after Patricia Thornton is chased and arrested. In 2016, Samantha Cage, played by Isabel Lucas as samantha cage, was rebooted as a CIA officer and former SASR in four episodes. After she retired from the CIA for her unauthorised actions to save mia SEALS, at the second season premiere, Matty recruited her to the Phoenix Foundation. Desiree Desi Nguyen, played by Levi Tran in 2016, is the latest agent of the Phoenix Foundation, using his skills to protect McGaever and his team from their global missions. Russell Russ Taylor portrayed by Henry Ian Cusick in the 2016 reboot as Maine. Russ Taylor is a former M16 agent-set-civilian military contractor described as a master manipulator and salesman, and Russ is adept at propaganda and lie detection and boasts a very high emotional intelligence. He is also very wealthy, and is therefore used to get his way and enjoy the spoils of war (including expensive suits, fast cars, private jets and monte carlo houses). Recurring characters in both series Murdoch's main article: Murdoch Murdoch (portrayed by Michael Des Bath) is McEy's most frequent opponent. He is a master assassin who never fails except when McIver is involved. Murdoc is not only very skilled and creative in using booby traps, but also a master of disguise. Murdoch's signature is to take pictures of the victims at the moment of his death. His first appearance McGeever is presented as the second run-in. Murdoch returns for revenge for McEvoy's surprising first encounter, when Murdoch appears to be dead. Murdoch's revenge plan not only fails, but also kills him again. This became a recurring theme: each of Murdoch's subsequent appearances ends with another apparently obvious death that he survives incredibly, and later returns from the episode. In the 2016 reboot, Murdoch (played by David Dastmalchian) is an hired hitman known as 218 suspects in the CIA with his target enemies. Arrested at the Phoenix Foundation in Season 1, he escapes from Season 2 and becomes obsessed with finding his lost son, Cassias. Michael Des Varess, who plays Murdoch in the original series, plays Murdoch's mentor Nicholas Hellman in the reboot. Nikki Carpenter [10][11] joins the Phoenix Foundation in its third season . She often has disagreements with McEver, although eventually comes to respect each other as an expert. In the 2016 reboot, the character (played by Tracy Spiridas) went rogue to the former agent of DXS and McGeever's ex-girlfriend but later turned out to be a CIA secret agent. Harry Jackson And Harry Jackson (portrayed by John Anderson) is McGaber's grandfather, who helped raise McGaever after his grandmother and father died in a car accident when he was nine years old. Seven years later, Harry left McGaber to work in Alaska and sent money to McEver and his mother. McGaever and Harry lost touch, but from Season 1, McIver and Harry reunite without contact for 18 years [12] in the episode Target McGaiber, where McGaber and his grandfather work together to defeat the assassin of D'Mitch Davis. Harry appears in five episodes target Seiber (Season 1), Phoenix Under Siege, Friends (Season 2) Passages (Season 5) and Harry's Will (Season 6). Harry dies of a heart attack in passages for the fifth season finale episode. The character (played by Michael O'Keefe) in the 2016 reboot (played by Michael O'Keefe) first appears in flashbacks in the fourth episode of Season 2. Colton Colton [13][14] (portrayed by Della Reese, Clevon Little, Richard Lawson and Cuba Gooding Jr.) is a family of bounty hunters (Mama Colton, Frank, Jesse and Billy). Relegated McGaever to a cameo appearance. The episode, called Colton, was actually intended as a backdoor pilot for Colton's spin-off, but ABC network officials decided not to capture the series. In the 2016 reboot, they appear for the first time being played by Cheryl Lee Ralph, Lance Gross, Javier Leslie, Jermaine Rivers Episode 16, Hook, when they get an edge on Mac and Jack several times, until the foundation team searches for fugitives from them. Mack, Jack, Bowser & Riley save Colton's life from a criminal employer. The second season episode re-stars Riley + The Plane, and Billy Colton (Gross) is interested in Riley's love. Charlie Robinson charlie robinson (portrayed by Stephen Williams) is an EOD technical expert sent by DXS to work with him and an EOD expert in handling Army bomb disposal of McGaber and McGaber. He starred in the episode: Countdown in the 2016 reboot, in which he is portrayed by Emerson Brooks as an eod technology expert mogaiber's longtime friend; He is another EOD expert in army bomb disposal. He's Season 1: Episode: Wrench, Season 2: Episode: Mac & Jack and Season 3: Episode: Revenge + Catacombs + Le Pantome and Mason + Cable + Selection. Penny Parker Penny Parker [16][16][17] (described by Terry Hatcher): Penny Parker and McGaever meet in line at a Bulgarian airport to smuggle jewellery from a country in their pocket. [18] With little talent, pursuing a show business career with big dreams puts her in trouble more than once. She was once used by Murdoch as an unconscious pawn to remove McE's. She was also the spitting image of her late aunt Betty Parker, who was murdered in 1958 by her boyfriend, was suffering from lead poisoning. [19] Like author Mild Red Benson's somewhat impulsive female sleuth character of the same name, Penny is not exactly stupid, but she tends to act without thinking of things through things, and how to figure out the world of shaky. Therefore, long-suffering McGeever often needs to help her save a penny from the problem and otherwise deal with the situation of life. Bianca Malinowski in the 2016 reboot. Jimmy McGeever James Jimmy McGeever is McGeever's father. He is portrayed by Martin Milner in the original series. Tate Donovan portrays him in the 2016 reboot, the long-lost father of Angus. James, who lost his wife and Angus's mother, soon abandoned his family and left angus to care for his grandfather. In the season 2 finale, the Phoenix Foundation's invisible and enigmatic chief (and all the names that have gone before) is actually codenamed James: Angus learns when Maddie forced him to have a face-to-face meeting when he quitphoenix. James revealed that Angus had left his family to protect Angus from enemies around the world, and that many people would not hesitate to threaten the lives of their children, but the pain of losing his wife made James afraid of what he would do around Angus. Angus left Phoenix in the season 2 finale and told his father that he couldn't work for people he didn't trust. James tracks him down to ask for help to rescue Jack from the Season 3 premiere. After rescuing Jack, Maddie forced James to quit his role as director so Angus I'm willing to rejoin Phoenix. The character is only recurring in the original series Helen Wilson (played by Susan Chiapple): Pete Thornton's secretary. Episodes – Strange Triples, Spoilers, Rock Cradle, Cleo Rocks, Tommy Giordano Battle, Blind Faith, Strictly Business Willis (portrayed by Bruce Harwood): Episodes – Walls, Wasteland, Traces of Tears, and Hindsight Maria Lomburg (portrayed by Brigitte Stenberg): Maria initially appears in the sixth season on McGeever's Friends. She changes sides and joins the Phoenix Foundation and becomes McGaever's love interest. Mei Yan [20] (michelle chan first called herself Sue Ling) is McGaber's foster daughter, helping McGaever complete her mission for the Chinese student movement. She later revealed that the real Su-Ring was killed in the Tiananmen Square protests in 1989. Cynthia Wilson (portrayed by Roxanne Reese): Introduced with her husband Booker (Michael D. Roberts) in the challenge. Cynthia runs the Challengers Club, a program for troubled urban youth. In an episode in which Mclver tries to help runaways and other youth, he invariably sends them to the Challengers Club as a safe haven. Lisa Woodman (played by Mayim Bialik): McGeever is the first young girl to meet at a Swiss boarding school, accidentally losing a Swiss military knife. She later returned to two episodes, With The Heart of Steel and 20 Questions, the latter associated with Mack to help her overcome alcohol abuse problems. Mike Keeley (portrayed by Jackson Davis): Episode -20 Questions, The Wall, and The Lesson of The Devil's Mama Lauren (portrayed by Kimberly Scott): Voodoo Priest. She appears in episodehood, Prometheus Syndrome and The Walking Dead. Recurring characters from the 2016 reboot Sarah Adler (portrayed by Amy Acker): Jack's ex-partner and ex-girlfriend from the CIA. Jill Morgan (portrayed by Kate Bond): Forensic expert at the Phoenix Foundation. She was murdered by Murdok. Rihanna Martin (portrayed by Reine Edwards): A recruit who meets Bowser and becomes a good friend and later starts a relationship at a surgical training center. Cassandra Glover (portrayed by Lauren Valles): Coordinator of the Surgical Training Center. Elwood Davis (portrayed by William Baldwin): Riley's neglected father. Gwen dogler Gwen Hayes (portrayed by Jerry Ryan): McGaber's aunt and his mother's sister; A former DXS agent who is believed to be dead; Head of codex. See = ^ Season 4, Episode 2 - Blood Brothers.
